Pat Murphy.

Call him Murph.

Press & speaking kit

Manager. Coach. Speaker.

November 2026

A life in baseball.

A perspective built around people.

The Notre Dame years, 1988 to 1994.

Pat Murphy has spent more than four decades helping teams and individuals find what they are capable of. Known as Murph, the Milwaukee Brewers manager led the franchise to its first World Series championship in 2026 and earned National League Manager of the Year honors in 2024, 2025 and 2026.

40+ years in coaching

College, international and professional baseball.

A Syracuse, New York, native and former Florida Atlantic player, Murph began his college head coaching career at Maryville College in 1983. His path included Claremont-Mudd-Scripps, seven seasons at Notre Dame and 15 at Arizona State. At Notre Dame, his teams reached three consecutive NCAA regional finals. At Arizona State, he guided the Sun Devils to the 1998 national championship game and received Baseball America's National Coach of the Year award. His career also took him to the international stage with the Netherlands national team.

Murph later managed in the San Diego Padres' minor league system and served as the club's interim Major League manager in 2015. After eight seasons as Milwaukee's bench coach, he began his first full season as manager in 2024.

His perspective comes from years of working with people at different stages of their lives and careers. In speaking appearances and conversations, Murph explores the human side of leadership: earning trust, setting standards, responding to setbacks and keeping a team connected. His stories make room for reflection, direct talk and laughter.

Read the complete biography

The record.
The recognition.

3

Consecutive NL Manager of the Year awards
2024, 2025, 2026

103

Milwaukee regular-season wins in 2026
A franchise record

293-193

Milwaukee regular-season record
2024 to 2026

2026

World Series champion

Milwaukee's first championship.

1998

National Coach of the Year

Baseball America, Arizona State.

2000, 2007, 2008, 2009

Pac-10 Coach of the Year

2024, 2025, 2026

Three NL Central titles

Explore the full coaching record

Bring Murph into the conversation.

The decisions, relationships and lessons behind a life in baseball. Invite Murph for a conversation shaped around your audience, with stories about developing people, building trust and leading through pressure.

Trust and accountability

Set clear expectations, give honest feedback and earn the trust that helps people respond.

Seeing potential in people

Recognize ability, understand the individual and create room for growth.

Growing as a leader

Listen, adapt and keep learning from the people you lead.

Responding under pressure

Prepare for the moment, keep perspective and help the team make its next decision.

Keeping people connected

Use candor, humor and everyday conversations to build a sense of belonging.

Formats

Keynotes · Moderated conversations
Audience Q&A · Team and executive discussions

Inquire about a speaking engagement

Share your event date, location, audience, preferred format and what you hope people will take away.

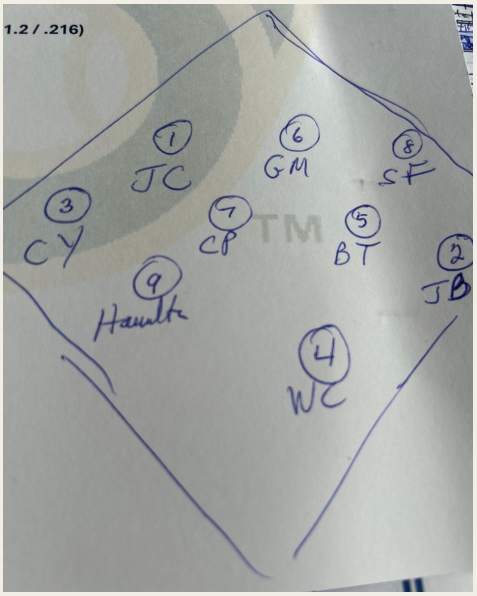
Only Murph.

“The ones that are toughest to love need the love the most.”

Murph · World Series postgame press conference

October 28, 2026 · Read the transcript

Drawn by hand.



Murph draws his lineup by hand.

Read the MLB story

Perspective, earned.

“Bro, next of kin? I’m not going anywhere.”

Murph recalled his reply to an ambulance driver during his August 2020 heart attack. The story carries his familiar candor into a defining personal moment.

Murph’s recollection · October 27, 2026

A pocket pancake.

A midgame interview. A pancake from his pocket. A very Murph way to snack.

Watch the original MLB moment

Explore Murphisms and the stories behind them

Murph 42.

Pat Murphy's foundation.

Connect with Murph 42 about foundation questions, potential partnerships and community opportunities.

Giving through the years.

Selected milestones from Murph's community work across his coaching career.

1995

Created the Guadalupe Project, bringing baseball instruction and life skills to young people.

2004

Founded Sandlot, a youth baseball program that began in his backyard.

2006

Gave $100,000 to help create ASU's Tillman Room, honoring Pat and Kevin Tillman.

2009

Organized the inaugural Pat Murphy Charity Home Run Derby.

2026

Helped fund Maryville College's new baseball scoreboard, dedicated in April during the program's 150th anniversary season.

Visit the foundation

For the people who tell the story.

Short biography

Pat Murphy is the manager of the Milwaukee Brewers, a three-time National League Manager of the Year and a 2026 World Series champion. Known as Murph, he has spent more than four decades developing players and leading teams across college baseball, the minor leagues, international competition and Major League Baseball. His career includes head coaching tenures at Notre Dame and Arizona State, where he earned national coaching honors. Murph brings that experience to conversations about trust, accountability, resilience and recognizing potential in others, with the candor and humor that have become part of his connection with players and audiences.

Speaking & appearances

Tell us about the audience, the occasion and the conversation you have in mind.

Open the speaking form

Media & general inquiries

Request an interview or get in touch with Murph's team.

Open the media inquiry form

Murph 42 Foundation

Connect about partnerships, opportunities and foundation inquiries.

Open the foundation form

The archive & the personality

Find photographs, the full career record, stories and Murphisms.

Explore Murph's website

Sources & edition

Career information current through November 22, 2026. Selected sources:

MLB / Brewers: 2026 honors

Notre Dame: coaching legacy

Arizona State: coaching biography

Full records & source notes

Please use Pat Murphy or Murph. Current role: Manager, Milwaukee Brewers.